Re: Arco Redman becomes

Dear Sir / Madam

Since our parent company Arco, her subsidiaries and Staco Group integrated their grating activities back in January 2008, the grating technology division of Arco's PLC, ROTO has further expanded into an international group of companies.

These developments and the fact that the Staco name is well known throughout Europe, have led to uniting and rebranding of all the grating and flooring companies as the STACO Group. Therefore, Arco Redman Ltd will be changing their name to Staco Redman Ltd on the 23rd October 2008. Our company registration, bank number and VAT number all remain the same.

Staco Redman Ltd will continue their Joint Venture with Redman Fisher Engineering Ltd and their PLC Hill & Smith. With production plants and sales offices in England, the Netherlands, Belgium and Poland, as well as sales offices in France, Luxembourg, Germany, Switzerland and Ireland, we are now your European wide number one choice for architectural, commercial and industrial grating applications.

What does this mean for you?

Staco Redman Ltd will continue to offer you the same high service and quality of goods, the same sales and support teams you have come to expect and know from Arco Redman Ltd, but with much added value and advantages.

We will be introducing more than seven new product types to our already large portfolio, offering you much more flexibility with your design and build opportunities. We believe and are confident that you will find the change subtle in its handover and large in its impact on our futures.

We also have a new range of brochures. You can choose from Floor gratings & treads, Perfo planks & stair treads and Architectural gratings. If you would like to receive a hard copy, please do not hesitate to contact us. You can also download them from our new website: www.stacoredman.co.uk.

We look forward to our continued relationship.

STACO: ALWAYS AN EFFECTIVE SOLUTION
